The Man Who Left the Baby at
Mr. Ragsdale's Home
Was Seen.

Had the Baby on the Train—Was a Mean Looking Personage.

The police have a good clue to the identity of the man who left the two months old boy baby at the home of Mr. S. P. Ragsdale, on North Tenth street, yesterday morning. The man was white.

Dr. R. A. Hicks and Col. Thomas Corbett were both on the train yesterday morning when the man entered the smoker. He entered the car soon after the "cannon-ball" left Fulton, and they believe he boarded the train there.

In appearance he was shabbily dressed, wore a slouch hat, big shoes, and was clean shaven, without beard. He had what these Paducah gentlemen consider a forbidding face. He seemed to be about 24 years old.

He took a seat in the cushion back of Dr. Hicks. The baby was attired in a neat looking white dress, wore a small hood, or cap, and was quiet until the train reached Mayfield. Then it began weeping. The man gave it a sugar test, and tried to lull it back to sleep. He was tender enough to the infant, but they couldn't get over his sinister face.

Dr. Hicks finally asked the man if he thought the baby was sick. He said that there "was nothing the matter with him."

Finally Col. Corbett asked the man where the lady's mother was, and it is understood he replied "in Paducah," although Dr. Hicks heard only a jilt-humored growl.

The man left the smoker when the train stopped. The porter showed to him that the train would back into the depot, but he replied that he didn't care, he was going to get off there.

He probably proceeded down Ninth to Boyd and there crossed over to Mr. Ragsdale's, on Tenth street.

Where he came from is a question. Dr. Hicks and Mr. Corbett would both recognize him should they see him again, and there is no doubt but that he is the man who abandoned the child.

The police are at work on the case, and hope to ferret out the mystery. He no doubt left on the next train at 3:55 the same morning.

SPAIN EXPECTS WAR BY APRIL.

Openly Admitted in Havana by Spaniards Peace Without War Is an Impossibility.

GENERAL BLANCO IS FORTIFYING THE CITY OF HAVANA.

The United States Still Hastening Preparations For War—Vast Orders For Powder Given Out.

FIVE MORE BIG WARSHIPS

May Be Bought By the United States This Week—We Have Options.

TWO SQUADRONS BEING FORMED.

One at Hampton Roads and One at New York—Warships Are Now Gathering.

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION TODAY.

All Reports That the President May Change His Chosen Policy Are Without Foundation.

AN IMPORTANT CABINET MEETING TODAY.

Washington, March 18.—It is evident today that all rumors to the effect that the President had changed his plans, or weakened, are entirely without foundation. Instead of that, McKinley is making vast plans for national defense and hurried orders are being sent out hourly to the various departments.

All available warships are being impressed into service. A squadron is being formed at Hampton Roads and another will be formed immediately in New York harbor.

It is believed that all preparations have been made for intervention in behalf of Cuba next week. Those nearest to the President claim this to be his policy, and he will not be changed from it. The government today secured option on five more warships which will probably be bought this week.

It is openly admitted in Havana that war will be declared by April 1. General Blanco seems to realize this and he is making all preparations in his power to fortify the city. He has ordered all Spanish troops from the interior of the island to Havana. Cuban independence is looked for as a certainty in a few days.

The war department today telegraphed to the California Powder Works the largest order for powder ever given by this government.

The two new warships bought of Brazil are today flying the stars and stripes.

The report of the court of inquiry expected in this city tomorrow.

Secretary long says that Cuban intervention will be considered at the cabinet meeting this afternoon. He also said that new squadrons will be formed to make American success absolutely certain in case of a war with Spain, which, he added, he feared cannot now be honorably avoided.

The situation today, as agreed on all sides, is that Cuban intervention within a few days is certain, and that Spain must declare war or give up Cuba.

END COMING NEXT WEEK.

The Report of the Naval Board Expected By the President on Monday.

Washington, March 18.—There is every reason to believe that next week will witness some sensational developments in the Cuban situation. It can be stated positively that the President expects to receive the report not later than Monday, and there is a possibility that it may reach Washington a day or two ahead of time. In ordinary cases of naval boards the report goes first to the officer convening the inquiry, and is by him carefully inspected and forwarded, with his approval, disapproval or other comments. Then it goes to the judge advocate of the department, and is again reviewed before being sent to the secretary of the navy, who in turn transmits it to the President. If these ordinary channels were followed, it would be some time before action could be obtained on the report, but owing to the extraordinary nature of the affair, orders have been transmitted all along the line to expedite the delivery of the important document to the President, and it is quite possible that the intermediate officers may be overlooked entirely, leaving the formalities to be complied with after the President has received a copy of the formal finding.

There is semi-official authority for the statement that President McKinley has finally made up his mind to the effect that the condition of public sentiment is such that delays would be dangerous. It is expected that he will transmit the report almost immediately to congress, with a message, the character of which will be based upon the finding of the board. The expectation is, therefore, that by next Wednesday the country will be placed in possession of the official decision as to how the Maine was blown up, and at the same time congress will be supplied with the views of the president regarding a demand upon Spain for an indemnity if it should be justified. He is also likely within an extremely short time, so cautious officials say, to develop rapidly his plan of intervention.

There is a belief at the state department that if the report of the board clearly shows any measure of liability on the part of Spain the Sagasta government will agree to pay the indemnity, provided it continues in power. The Spanish elections will be held Friday of next week, and it is pretty certain that if the Sagasta ministry secures a working majority in the Cortes, it will agree to the indemnity proposal after a certain amount of diplomatic dickerings. On the other hand, of course, if the elections go against them the Sagasta ministry will retire sooner or later, the Weylerites will be in the saddle and the prospects of war will become immediately evident.

It is a well known fact that Premier Sagasta personally knows that Cuba is lost to Spain forever, and that while he would not be disposed to give up the struggle, he would probably ignore the president's recognition, at least to the extent of keeping up an ostensible campaign against the insurgents. This he could easily do during the wet season, when military operations are practically suspended, and there would be no necessity of provoking a war with the United States merely because he recognized the insurgents as an independent government.

Following upon that recognition, of course Spain would have the right to search all American merchant ships for goods contraband of war, and this would be likely to provoke hostilities if Sagasta waited war, but if he was anxious for peace he could instruct his naval officers who are generally loyal, although hot-headed, not to exercise the right of search except in extreme cases and then, in case of any outrage, the Spanish government could promptly disavow it and punish the offenders, thus avoiding hostilities.

CONGRESS MUST DECIDE.

The People Expect No Hesitation or Shirk From Their Representatives.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Burrows, of Michigan, yesterday made the following statement: "I am profoundly impressed with the belief that in our relations with Spain a crisis is near at hand. In a very few days the government will receive the report of the court of inquiry. There is no doubt in my mind what the finding of the court will be, viz.: That the Maine was destroyed by the explosion of a Spanish mine or torpedo.

"If the court makes the report I anticipate it will, then we'll come the tug of war. I care not whether the explosion was produced by or through the connivance of a Spaniard or Cuban, Spain's responsibility for the deed is not lessened thereby. "Suppose that the President of the United States had visited Spain on a friendly mission and was the guest of the Queen Regent, and during the night was murdered by some member of the Queen's household, or by some fanatical Spaniard not connected with the Queen's household, would not this government have the right to hold Spain responsible for the deed? I contend that it would.

"Therefore, it is that I say that in our relations with Spain we are approaching a crisis, the solution and settlement of which congress alone must determine. The country expects congress to do its duty in the premises, and that the president will do his. Neither can shift the responsibilities of the hour upon the other.

"Any proposition of congress to shirk responsibilities, or confer special powers upon the President to meet emergencies as they arise, will be resented by the people. Congress must not only remain in session until it knows all the facts connected with the case of the Maine, but must not adjourn until it has settled, and settled right all the other questions that are to-day pressing for a speedy solution.

SUICIDE IN ILLINOIS.

Desperate Young Lady, Miss Lorena Wade, Took Rat Poison.

Her Lover, Mr. Leippert, Reported as Being a Raving Maniac.

A sensational suicide with a deplorable sequel, is reported from the lower part of Massac county, Illinois. It is said that Miss Lorena Wade and a young man named Leippert, worthy young people of the locality, were sweethearts and were engaged to be married. There was parental objection, however, to the match, and the dutiful girl chose to obey her parents rather than her heart. In a fit of despondency yesterday she took poison and died.

When the tragic news of her death reached the young man he lost his mind and is now reported to be a raving maniac.

Young lady took rattlesnake and, although everything possible was done to save her life, she died and her remains were buried yesterday.

U. S. COURT POSTPONED.

Judge Barr Notifies Commissioner Puryear That the U. S. Court Cannot Be Held Until May.

Put Off One Month—District U. S. Attorney Still Holds His Job—Tennessee Lawyer Here.

Judge John W. Barr, of the federal court, today notified United States Commissioner J. R. Puryear that the April term of federal court, the regular date of which is the first Monday in April, will not begin two weeks from Monday, April 2, but will have to be postponed one month. This was quite a surprise to the United States officials here, but will occasion them little inconvenience. They will have to re-summon the jurors, for the first Monday in May instead of the first Monday in April, and subpoena the witnesses again. A few of the defendants and witnesses are under bond for their appearance on the first Monday in April, and the bonds in these cases will have to be received.

Judge Barr states in his communication that the April term of the district and circuit courts here will have to be postponed on account of the case of banker McKnight, at Louisville, which, it is thought, will consume at least a month.

Deputy Marshal LaRue will begin at once notifying witnesses, jurors and defendants by mail to note the change.

Attorney Will Smith, of Mayfield, is still U. S. district attorney, despite the fact his successor, Mr. R. D. Hill, was appointed and executed bond, some time ago. The reason for this is that Attorney Smith is so well informed in the McKnight case and the bank case just finished in Covington, the government cannot do without him, and if he were not retained as district attorney, he would have to be employed, and at a figure much larger than his salary. When court is held here in May, however, Attorney Smith will have retired.

Attorney J. P. Rhodes, of Milan, Tenn., is in the city today consulting Judge Campbell relative to the Brown vs. Robertson $50,000 damage suit, to come up in the federal court.

The Greatest Store of Western Kentucky NOAH'S ARK The Greatest Store of Western Kentucky

Extract of an editorial taken from the Western Review of Commerce, published at Chicago, Ill., dated November 19 last:

A Compliment to Paducah...

When we recommend an article or product it is accepted without question that we have thoroughly satisfied ourselves, by severe tests, of its value and worth, and that it is all that it may claim to be. The foregoing is sufficient to illustrate our position, and to justify what we may say when we make specific recommendation and extend our editorial commendations to the Brook Hill Garrard county, Kentucky, whiskey, distilled by Friedman, Keiler & Co., of Paducah, Ky. Both dealers and consumers can rely upon the character of the products of this firm, both in general and in particular, and we have no hesitancy in recommending them to our readers. Although we have no personal interest in the matter whatsoever, we believe in the policy, "merit to whom merit is due." In the light of too frequent adulterations and preparations of liquors, it behooves every one to scrutinize every brand, but, from the lack of proper facilities, such precautions are often neglected. To supply such want we have caused to be made close and critical examination and a searching chemical analysis, with the intention of printing the same, whether favorable or otherwise. The result, however, leaves us but one thing to do, and that is to state, regarding the Brook Hill Whiskey, that purer or better liquor has never been placed upon the market, and we recommend same to our readers in unqualified terms and advise them to place an order, at least for a trial, as their product is recommended by physicians as an aid to digestion, and is placed on our list of pure and wholesome food supplies.

The Brook Hill Whiskey is also bottled in bond, under the direct supervision of the United States internal revenue department, which is a guarantee of its absolute purity, age and excellence. Sold by all the leading drug stores, saloons and club rooms.

FRIDAY, MAR. 18 1898

HAWAII has not been forgotten in this crisis. The present probability of war emphasizes all the more the need to this country of that group of Islands.

MR. BRYAN has evinced no desire to withdraw from the lecture field to go to war for the Cubans. He is laying up 1000 dollars against the next national campaign.

If Spain really desires to have American warships withdrawn from Cuban waters and Tortugas, she might withdraw her army from Cuba, and her war vessels from Havana harbor.

ALL talk of an early adjournment of Congress is futile. The people expect their representatives to remain on duty and to hold up the hands of the President, and the members of Congress know it.

THE Democratic papers are now reading Senator Bronston out of the party and all because he had the courage to vote against the Goebel bill. The reward of independence in these latter days of Democracy is summary expulsion. No man who bows not the knee to Goebel is wanted in this party of purity.

SPAIN evidently has forgotten one fundamental principle of international law, and that is that any nation can establish a precedent providing it has the power to back it up. International law would permit Spain to prosecute her war of extermination in Cuba, but the United States will establish a precedent; and hereafter international law will say that that barbarous war like the attempt of Spain to put down the Cuban insurrection must not be allowed.

This year bids fair to be a record breaker in the line of exports by this country. The trade statement for February shows an increase in the excess of exports over imports of more than $11,000,000, and for the eight months the excess of exports

Messrs. J. D. Herndon, P. Par-year and Dr. H. T. Rivers, those selected to represent the Paducah association in the state athletic contest to be held in Louisville April 29, are carefully training for the occasion. A trophy will be awarded to the team scoring the highest number of points; also individual prizes, gold and silver medals. There are many reasons to believe that the Paducah team will make a surprisingly good record.

The series of Sunday afternoon talks to men, as is being given by Rev. W. K. Penrod, of the First Baptist church, is proving fine, indeed, and an increased interest is being manifested. Next Sunday Mr. Penrod will speak on the subject: "Instability," and it is certain to be a most forcible address.

The Young Men's Congress, organized a few weeks ago, promises to be a most interesting feature of the association. The members are taking a lively part in it, and at every session the credentials of new congressmen are received. At the session next Monday night a bill to divide the state of Texas will come up for discussion and passage, and the "proud gentleman from Texas" will have his hands full trying to save his honors from being reduced.

The members reception last Tuesday evening was not only successful in a social way, but from a business standpoint also. An active membership canvass to secure two hundred new members was inaugurated. The members were divided into squads, and under the leadership of three captains as Messrs. L. T. Wilson, D. M. Flournoy and O. P. Leigh, a successful issue to the canvass is more than assured. The canvass closes May 17th, when an occasion similar to the one of last Tuesday night will be had. The association is growing now; let all take part and keep it so.

CENSUS OF EGYPT.

Something About the People Living in the Nile Valley.

The statistics of the census taken last June of what is called Egypt proper—that is, Egypt up to Wady Halfa—have been classified elaborately by Boinet Bay, of the finance ministry. The main results are as follows: In 1846, under Mohammed Ali, the population was only estimated at 1,500,000; the census of 1882, which was a most imperfect one, showed over 6,750,000 and last year's, which may be considered as fairly accurate as is practicable, indicates a total population of nearly 9,750,000. Of this total 50.8 per cent are males, and 49.2 per cent females. After deductions for women, children under seven years, and Bedouins, it is calculated that 12 per cent of the males can read and write, the remainder being entirely illiterate. The native Egyptians number 9,008,000, to which must be added 40,000 originally from other parts of the Ottoman empire and 574,000 Bedouins. Of these last only 80,000 are really nomads, the remainder being settled semi-sedentary. Of foreign residents there are 112,500, of whom the Greeks are the most numerous, with 38,000; then come the Italians, 24,500; British (including 6,500 Maltese and 5,000 of the army of occupation), 19,500; French (including 4,000 Algerians and Tunisians), 14,000; Austrians, 7,000; Russians, 1,400; Germans, 1,300; the remainder are divided among 10 different nationalities. The classification according to religion shows nearly 9,000,000 Moslems, 730,000 Christians, and 25,000 Israelites. The Christians include the Coptic race, numbering about 608,000, of whom only a very small proportion profess the Roman Catholic and Protestant faiths. Among the town populations Cairo contains 570,000, Alexandria 320,000, Tantah (the largest town in the interior of the delta), 57,000, Zagazig and Mansurah (the next in importance), 35,000 each; Port Said, 12,000; Ismailia, nearly 7,000, and Suex 17,000. From these figures it may be gathered that over 50,000 persons derive their living from the Suez canal. Assiut (the largest town of Upper Egypt), contains 42,000, and Kenah ranks next with 21,000. The total number of centers of population, comprising towns, villages, farm settlements and Bedouin encampments, is given as 18,129.—London Times.

A GREEN COOK.

Wanted to Know on Which Side to Fry the Eggs.

A young West end couple have just returned from their wedding trip and, after a little stay with the lady's parents, went to housekeeping.

The wife has had considerable trouble with servants in her short domestic experience. She complained that they all seemed to know too much and would not be taught her ways of doing things. She decided to get an absolutely green girl, whom she could train into an ideal servant. Her husband was inclined to discourage the project, knowing well that she would have to have interminable patience. But the little woman persisted and a girl with the broadest brogue and the widest ignorance about American housekeeping was engaged. For a few days things went on tolerably well. There was breakage galore, and various other discomforts, but, flushed with enthusiasm in her laudable undertaking, the young wife persisted.

One morning, when husband and wife had risen rather late for breakfast, the servant was ordered to try her hand at the breakfast alone. She had learned by this time to make coffee, broil the steak and bake the biscuits. This morning, being in a hurry on account of the lateness of the hour, the wife ordered ham and eggs.

"Broil the ham just as you did the steak," said she, "and fry the eggs on one side."

"Which side, please, mum?" asked the cook.

There has again been a change in that household.—St. Louis Republic.

Innovation in Bridesmaids.

It was something of an innovation at an eastern wedding lately to have the bridesmaids enter four by the right and four by the left door of the church. It was such a surprise that the wedding party should thus separate that the audience did not at first notice that two processions were simultaneously making their way to the altar. The bride, on her father's arm, entered by the middle aisle, when her attendants had accompanied by left and right. She was preceded by two ushers and her maid of honor walking alone, another pair of ushers closing the procession. As the bridesmaids reached the chancel they formed a lane through which the bride slowly passed to be met at the altar steps by the groom.

About the old story of the camel—how three philosophers heard about the animal and determined to investigate. The Englishman hunted through the folios of the British Museum, to find what had been said about the beast; the German went into his study, locked the door, lit his pipe and began to evolve a conception of the animal from his own consciousness; the Frenchman went down to Sahara to see.

INCONSISTENT CRITICISM. Wounded Pride the Cause of the Register's Attacks on the Opera House Management.

It is not the intention of this paper to defend the management of Morton's opera house. The management needs no defense. It has survived this long, and the people of Paducah are well aware of the existing methods of running it, and the class of the attractions offered. They can be given no information on the subject that will be new to them, even by the omniscient Register.

It is the duty of every reputable newspaper, and every self-respecting person, however, to promptly expose and denounce the malevolent spirit that prompts such attacks as those now being made by the Register against the management of the opera house. During the season the paper might have sometimes been justified in harshly criticizing the management, but now, when the attraction is well worth the price of admission, and all who attend are pleased with the performances, its attacking the management just at the present time is too palpable for further exposition. It simply need be said that the Register, for several days, has been smarting under the humiliation of receiving no patronage from the opera house management, and this is far more galling to its pride and more provocative of its utterances than all the rotten shows in Christendom. If the Register desired to roast the opera house management and thus elevate the class of attractions in Paducah, all fair minded people will wonder why it did not do it when it would have been justifiable, instead of when its selfish resentment as an incentive is evident.

SHOT IN SELF DEFENSE.

Mr. C. W. Huntley Acquitted at Grenada, Miss.

Mr. Huntley's many friends here will be glad to learn that his latest difficulty, like the former, is to occasion him no trouble.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Caucus Tonight Being Widely Discussed in Official Circles.

Ten Candidates For Tax Collector.

Mayor Lang Appoints a Special Policeman For Rowlandtown, Other City Notes of Interest.

The council convenes tonight to nominate a candidate for city tax collector. It created no little interest today in municipal circles. Mayor Lang's office was thronged with councilmen at irregular intervals all day.

At present it cannot be predicted who will be the successful man. The candidates are Messrs. George Robertson, Fendall Burnett, Joe Yeiser, H. F. Lyon, Ed Ware, Ed Ashbrook, J. Henry Smith, Wm. Kraus, Sam B. Caldwell and James Elliott.

Yesterday Secretary Q. C. Quirey, of the old north Ballard county road paid into the city treasury the city's last dividend on the stock it owned. This dividend amounted to $154.72.

Mayor Lang yesterday appointed Mr. John Ellis a special policeman for Rowlandtown. The latter now has water, electric lights and police protection.

An amusing letter was today received by the mayor from the Siemens and Holke Electric company, Chicago, stating that they understood the city contemplated building a new electric light plant, and the company wants to bid on it. Paducah's plant has been built two or three years.

As an inducement to secure a new hardwood factory for Paducah Mayor Lang will ask the council at the regular meeting Monday night to tender the Ferguson-Palmer Co., now of Ft. Wayne, Ind., a five year's exemption from taxation on condition that it locate here. The projectors have been here several times looking over the site, and it is reported may establish their factory down the N. C. & St. L. about twelve miles.

Jack Burks, a stranger, and Mrs. White, an old resident, were charged with drunkenness, and both were released.

A breach of ordinance case or two was disposed of, one insurance man being fined $5 and costs for failing to procure a license.

I. C. OFFICIALS.

Second Vice-President J. T. Harahan and Party Pass Through.

The I. C. Transfer Boat Bertram Taken to Madison, Ind., For Repairs.

This afternoon at 2:10 o'clock Second Vice-President J. T. Harahan and Chief Engineer Wallace, arrived from Louisville, their two private cars being attached to the regular train.

A party of minor officials accompanied them, including Supt. W. J. Harahan and Trainmaster Flynn.

Here the party was taken out on a special train for Chicago, in charge of Conductor T. C. Thilford.

The big Illinois Central transfer steamer Bertram will not be repaired in Paducah. She left Cairo last night in tow of the Charlie McDonald, for Madison, Ind., where the lowest bid was made.

The Illinois Central pay car arrived this afternoon and will leave at 2:45 tomorrow afternoon. The stores will all be open tonight.

Division Freight Agent C. McFadden, of Memphis, is at the Palmer.

SPECIAL OVERHUFF FOR COTTON.

Diamond Dyes the Only Home Dyes That Come in Special Colors

For Cotton and Mixed Goods.

When you want to dye cotton, or materials composed of wool and cotton or cotton and silk, be sure to use the Fast Diamond Dye special colors for mixed goods.

The use of dyes that claim to color all kinds of material with the one package will only cause rain and disappointment. Cotton is a vegetable fibre and requires a special dye entirely different from the dye that is required to color an animal fibre like wool. While the imitation dyes that claim to color all kinds of materials with the one package may give fairly satisfactory results on ribbons and small articles, yet for carpet rugs and for dress gowns or jackets, and, in fact, any of the usual jobs of dyeing, they simply stain the cotton part and give a streaked or spotted color that will quickly fade out when exposed to the light.

Diamond Dyes have sixteen special fast colors for cotton goods that never fail to give satisfaction. They cost much more to make than the imitation dyes, and hence the dealer has to pay more for them, but the price to the user is just the same as for the cheap dyes that have to make deceptive claims in order to sell their goods.

At present it cannot be predicted who will be the successful man. The candidates are Messrs. George Robertson, Fendall Burnett, Joe Yeiser, H. F. Lyon, Ed Ware, Ed Ashbrook, J. Henry Smith, Wm. Kraus, Sam B. Caldwell and James Elliott.

A NEW FIRM.

Eley, Dipple & White Gives

Place to the Eley Dry Goods Company.

Mr. Eley Leaves Tonight For a Ten Days' Trip in the East.

The firm of Eley, Dipple & White has given place to the Eley Dry Goods Co. The changes that have taken place are that Mr. White and Mr. Dipple have sold their interests to Mrs. M. A. Tucker of Hopkinsville, a sister of Mr. Major White. Mr. Dipple will be retained by the new firm as salesman, while Mr. White will also remain for a short time. His plans are somewhat indefinite.

The Eley Dry Goods Co. will greatly enlarge the stock of the house and for that purpose Mr. Eley leaves tonight for a ten days' trip to Eastern cities to buy goods.

The many friends of Mr. Dipple will be glad that he is to remain with the new firm. He has so long been identified with Paducah's business interests and is so well known that his connection with the house will be very valuable.

It is also to be hoped Mr. White will remain in the city. He had been connected with the old firm of J. J. Guthrie for such a long time that his absence from the business will be greatly noticed. Both Messrs. White and Dipple wish to thank the public for the generous patronage extended to the firm just dissolved and speak for the new firm the utmost success.

Mr. Eley, who will have the management of the new firm, is very well known in this city. That he will make a success and have only a strictly up-to-date establishment goes without saying.
